BLUE & GRAY 2001

Changing From The Inside Out

The Washington-Lee school year teemed with excitement. Students strived to achieve a new outlook on life through building stronger relationships and making friends from all cultures. Each student had an opportunity to explore and pursue individual interests as they learned more about themselves and their community. As the year came to a close, CHANGING FROM THE INSIDE OUT, recorded for us a look at how we have grown closer together building bridges for a lifetime.

Student Life

Changing Before Our Eyes

do you remember the eyes of the children?

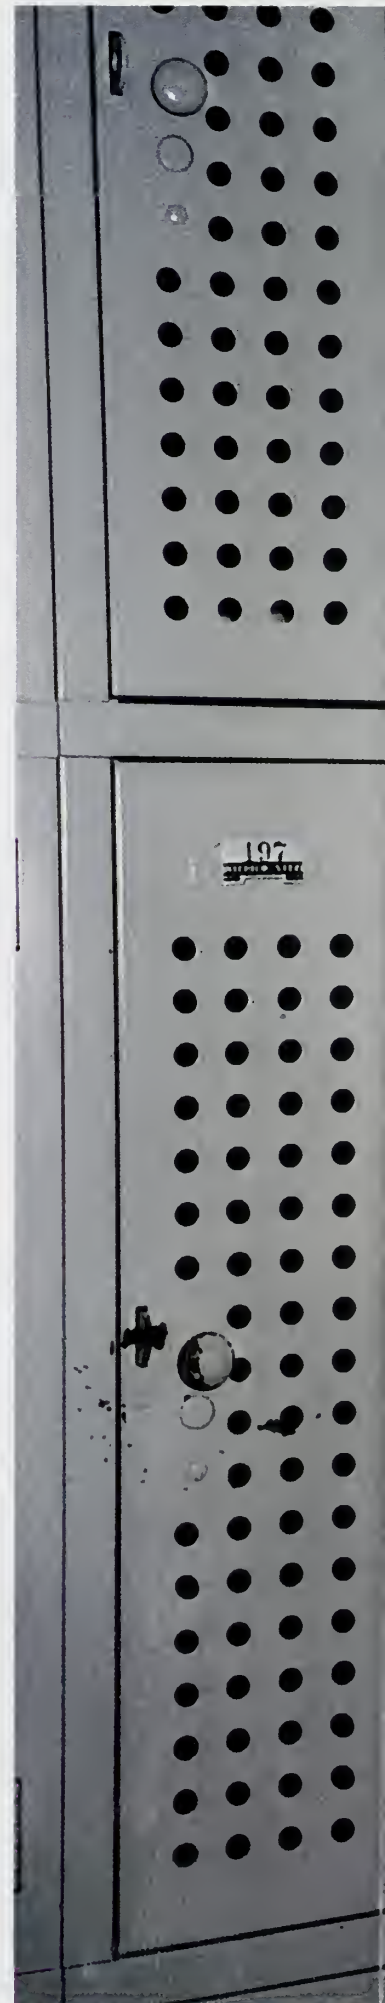

lunchroom smells? the song of forgotten games?

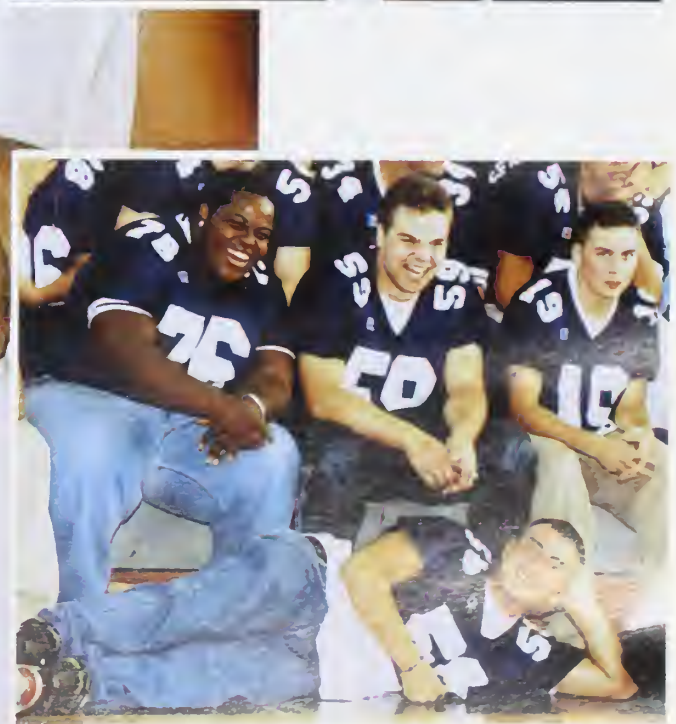

"red light - green light ... one ... two ... three"

- "Public School 168," Stewart Brisby

Each day symbolizes an element of our lives that will never be forgotten. Student Life offers a few snapshots of remembrance in those elements that created our lives as students. Remembering the latest fads, our dearest friends, popular music, and great movies were just a part of our lives. We celebrated everything that encompasses our experiences at Washington-Lee High School. We captured and held close our special moments and fond memories all because these truly were the days when we CHANGED FROM THE INSIDE OUT.

Remember

Senior Maria "Mimi" Rizzo is one of many talented students at Washington-Lee High School. Mimi is a "die-hard" lady athlete. Her knowledge, training skills, and ability to serve athletes was recognized by students and faculty alike. We will remember the talents and special relationships between students and faculty of W-L.

Summer Vacation

Thomas Jefferson Memorial,
Washington, DC

Whether students and teachers spent their summer working, out west in the mountains, overseas, or right here in the Old Dominion, life was good. The most important fact - no school. No stress from anyone. Nothing but pure relaxation.

Most spent their time with friends and family. Junior Charles Senatré spent his summer in Lake Placid, Florida, with his friend Chris, son of Mayor Christopher Capellini. Junior Jared Dean spent his days watching the sunset at Virginia Beach. Junior Eric Herman enjoyed days of hang gliding from the hills of France. Juniors Sarah Covaleski, Alexandra "Allie" Obrand, Christine Tillman, and Sophomore Becca O'Brien spent their summer on a school trip to Italy visiting one of the famous sites - Leaning Tower of Pisa. Junior Nuzhat Sanwar spent her days with family at Niagara Falls, Canada. Sophomore Nubia Zurita spent a portion of her summer visiting her brother PFC Rodney Zurita (W-L graduate) on the Marine Corp Base, Jacksonville, North Carolina. Many other W-L students spent their summer days at our familiar Kings Dominion.

Spring Play

Premier Performances

As we journeyed through the school year, the W-L Theatre & Music Department gave premier performances during showings of The Elephant Man and Guys & Dolls. The performances were met with rave reviews from the parents, faculty, and community. The spring play, Guys & Dolls, was the most anticipated play of the year. This was the time for senior cast members to give their fans their best work of the season. We were pleased to have long-running performances and great evenings of entertainment.

G U Y S & D O L L S

Parking Around W-L A New Stadium

Parking at W-L has been an event in itself. Students and faculty scurried during the mornings to secure a space. This year, the senior drivers shared some of their valuable slots with the teachers. Opening up slots for the teachers were needed. Students and teachers learned that getting in early was the key to a good parking space. Next year's seniors will learn what a privilege and responsibility it is to be a licensed driver at W-L.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Yvette Garcia, Freshman, can't wait to go home. Underclassmen have partial privileges when they carpool with their siblings. Many arrive in the lot before their drivers.

War Memorial Stadium Under Construction
 LEFT: Work began as soon as the students returned to school. No one (except the architects, engineers, and principals) had any idea what was in store for our old stadium. Huge piles of dirt and commercial excavation equipment was everywhere. The engineers erected lots of fencing to protect the students and the public. The work seemed endless.

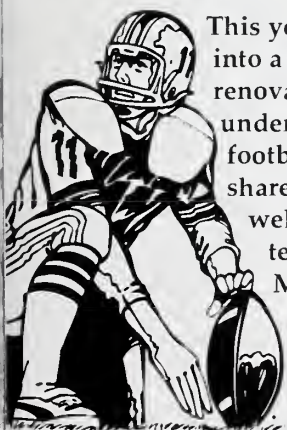

The New War Memorial Stadium
 LEFT: Ta-dah! It's done! Look at our new stadium. It was really worth the wait. Besides a few geese enjoying the freshly laid sod, the stadium sits quietly awaiting spring sports activities and the graduation class of 2001. We're proud of all the work and time invested to create the new War Memorial Stadium. Most are still not aware of the stadium's hidden features. W-L faculty, students, and parents plan to enjoy this stadium for years to come.

What Are They Doing Now?

Joseph Ponce, Senior, watches the huge earth-moving equipment dig deep into the ground where the old football field existed. Students couldn't help but to look out the windows when the renovation began. They knew something good was taking place.

War Memorial Stadium

Washington-Lee's War Memorial Stadium has been a part of the Arlington community since 1925. The stadium hosted many football games and homecoming activities. Over the years, as the student and community population changed to include foreign-born residents, the stadium was designed to include soccer and field hockey events.

This year, the stadium was transformed into a state-of-the-art sports arena. The renovation includes an olympic size track, underground rifle range, professional football and soccer fields. W-L hopes to share the stadium with the community as well as international and national sports teams playing in the Washington, DC Metropolitan Area.

Thanks to the W-L faculty, parents, and civic organizations, the students and alumni now have a stadium that they can be proud of for years to come.

A R O U N D W L

This is what W-L is all about. Students! Our students were represented by their principals, teachers, parents, and friends. This made this year quite an event.

We saw how a homecoming away from home was just as memorable as previous years.

We learned to laugh and have lots of fun. We were at our best and there will be even more to come. W-L, you're the greatest!

People

Never before and never since will we experience days like this. The people of W-L give you the most celebrated, memorable, and serene moments of the school day. We'll never forget the last Homecoming away from home, the harding working student population, the blizzard that would never come, and all the fun we shared being a part of the General Family. Each page reveals a part of our school and student life; which composes both diversity and its uniqueness. We will capture and hold close our special moments and fond memories all because they changed us from the inside out.

The Many Faces Of W-L

ABOVE: Washington-Lee's halls are full of great faces. Our students bring with them so much anticipation and talent. The faces tell us alot. They tell us where we're going and where we've been. We appreciate knowing that our school's tudent population is a mosaic of masks.

Rays Of Sunshine

RIGHT: Seniors Hanna Showamare, Selam Belay, Biruh Tegegne, and Afomia Bekele express their African and African-American spirit. These beautiful young Nubian ladies brought to W-L a wonderful ray of sunshine.

Travis Woodbury, Junior, was one of many students excited about the brief snow showers. This year, snow was limited; however, the spirits were high. Maybe that blizzard will come next year.

Will The Snow Every Come?
We were ready for the snow. The meteorologists predicted snow many times during the school year. We received some flakes. Just enough to get everyone excited. Combining the fire drills with the falling snow gave students an opportunity to play in the snow.

- Senior: 1: a person older than another.
 2: a person with higher standing or rank.
 3: higher ranking, superior.

Seniors

"Super Seniors." "Senior Slump." These are common expressions used to describe the experiences during the last year of high school. The Class of 2001 showed its spirit through creative activities; such as, building the homecoming float and decorating for the dance. Completing numerous college applications, attending job fairs, preparing resumes, and visiting universities created excitement for family, friends, teachers and seniors. Regardless, the Class of 2001 survived Senior Slump and looked forward to graduation.

Senior Spirit

ABOVE: Prior to the week of homecoming, Beth Jensen, Tim Walters, and Eric Gade stir up the school spirit. It was traditional for seniors to wear togas on Decades Day.

Senior Friendship

RIGHT: Carla Gonzalez and Rene Sanjines eat lunch together. Senior friendships were a special part of the class' sense of unity.

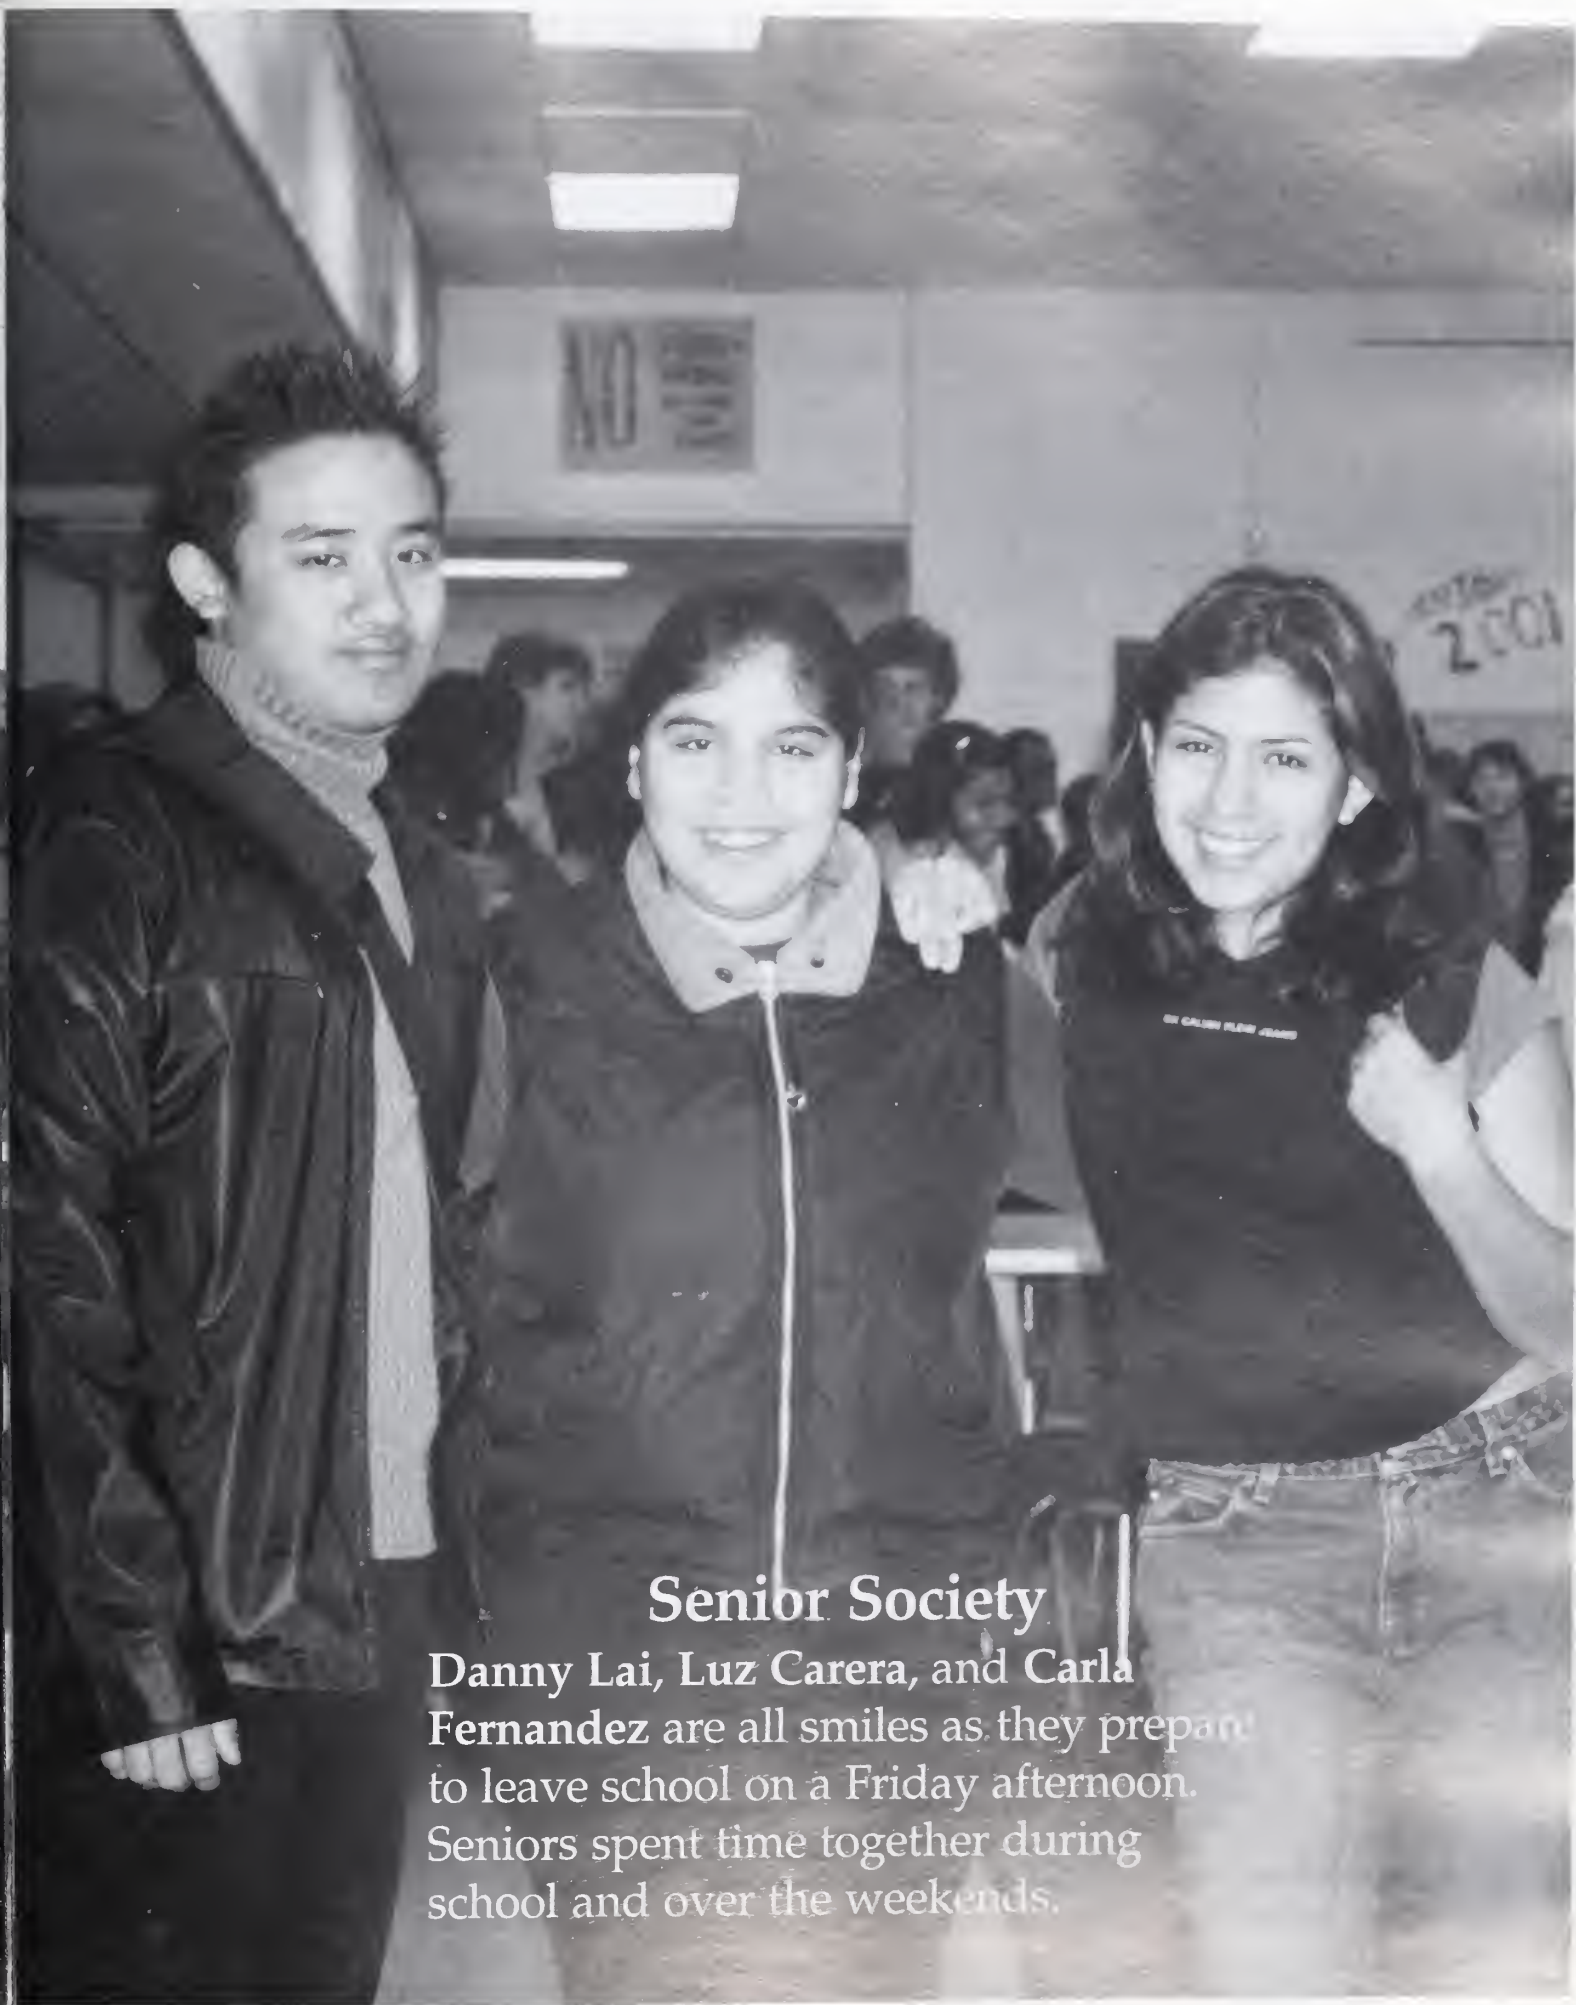

Senior Lockers

MIDDLE RIGHT: Socrates Tiglao and Brad Jones stop by their locker on the way to class. Senior lockers had the best location - the cafeteria.

Senior Stress

BOTTOM RIGHT: Kristin Mahan discusses an assignment with a classmate. Seniors were under pressure to plan for jobs or college.

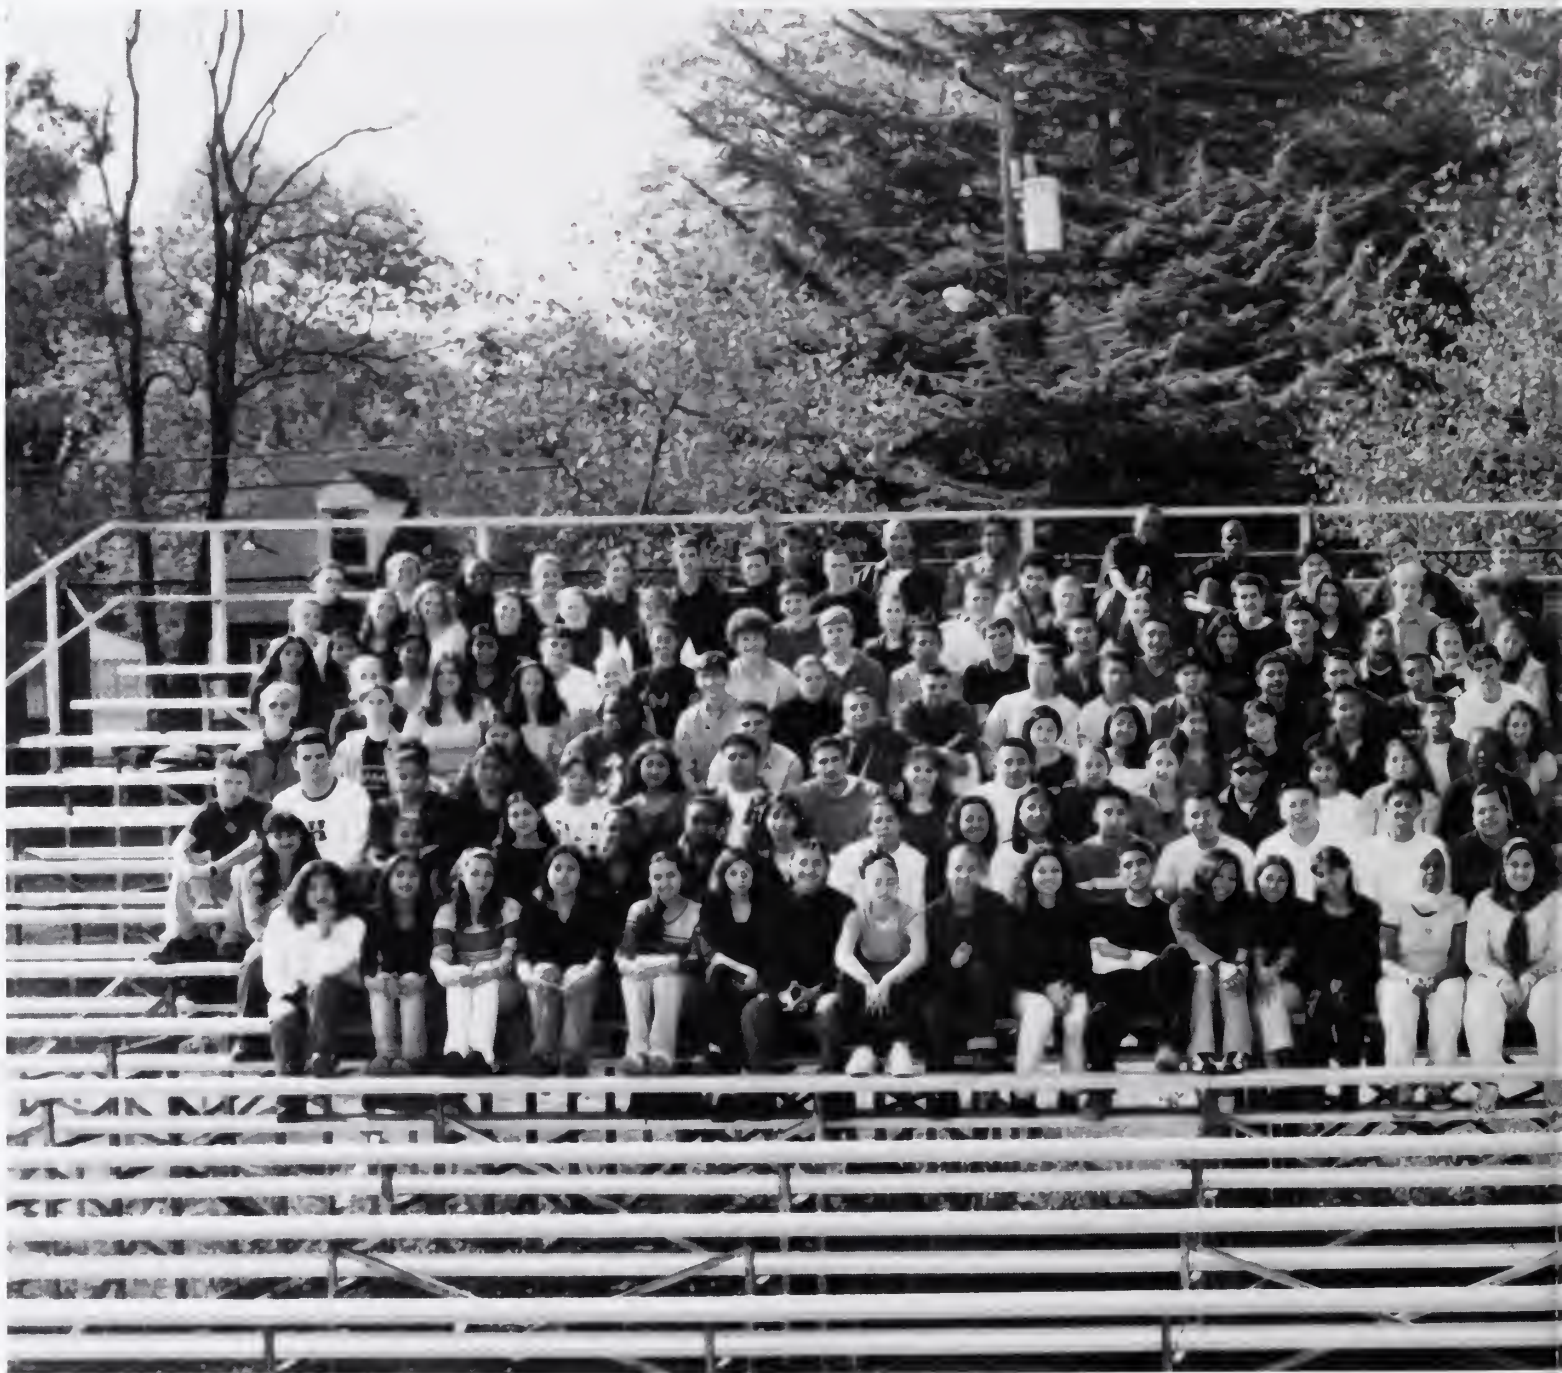

Senior Society

Danny Lai, Luz Carera, and Carla Fernandez are all smiles as they prepare to leave school on a Friday afternoon. Seniors spent time together during school and over the weekends.

The Senior Class of 2001

We made it! The Senior Class of 2001 - The Real Millennium - survived the 2000 Presidential Election, long lunch lines, the constant challenge of finding a parking space, long study nights, searching for the best colleges & universities, in-house field trips, and the anticipation for the big day when they can say "I'm an alumnus of Washington-Lee!" All the hard work was worth it. It's time to move on and conquer new horizons. The Senior Class of 2001 holds the key to a brand new world.

The Real Millennium

What If . . .

The school board had actually approved a later school opening time the first year they discussed it.

Chuck Senatré had a friend.

Scott Battocchi won best dressed.

The War Memorial Stadium was actually ready for our 2000 Homecoming game.

Angel Contreras came to class on time and remained in class.

Fernando Enriquez realized he went to this school.

Gaby Florido went home at 2:10 p.m.

Monique Boley laughed like everyone else.

The homecoming king made it to the dance.

Tim Walters was nice to Kelly Cannon.

Fredy Hernandez was always right.

Alex Ordonez wasn't in love with his car.

In the 2000 election, it didn't take the U.S. Supreme Court to figure out who the voters elected.

J. C. Browder would stay at his own party.

You could see what Woody Henderson was thinking.

Writing fake morning announcements was punishable by death.

Alejandro Lopez was invited to lunch.

Best friends Kim O'Brien and Elizabeth Rente never fought.

People didn't go to football games just to hear the band.

Larom Lancaster wore his hair down.

What If . . .

21. W-L home football games hadn't been played at Wakefield.

22. The Philosophy Club could agree on something.

23. All the seniors weren't late to their sixth period class because of the long fast food lines.

24. Charkenía Walker was quiet.

25. Martha Rivera had a watch that worked.

26. Sergio Enriquez didn't hide underclassmen in his trunk.

27. W-L didn't rely on money from senior parking tickets.

28. Abercrombie and Fitch wasn't supported by half the student body of Washington-Lee.

29. Eric Gade was a mute.

30. Lizette Askarinam came to class.

31. There was no Napster.

32. The vending machines were ever turned on.

33. Worby McNamee never hit on underclassmen.

34. Russell Evans wasn't the living embodiment of the disco age.

35. Juan Huylla was cool.

36. Melissa Saunders' smile wasn't contagious.

37. Rocky Bautista and Richelle Heredia changed heights.

38. Alex Schaefer knew how many girls were in love with him.

39. Fredy Hernandez's injury didn't cause the only win for the football team.

40. Senior girls don't drink.

Tinbit Abebe

"I would like to thank my family, friends, and other people in my life for getting me here. And most of all I would like to thank God."

-Tinbit Abebe

Afreen Afrose

"Friendship is very precious. There are fools, who let stupid things like rumors come in between, because a good friendship lasts more than a lifetime."

-Afreen Afrose

Sukannya Ahmed

"You are born with wings. Why prefer to crawl through life?"

-Sukannya Ahmed

Ana P. "Patty" Alcantara

"The best way to be successful is to follow the advice you give others."

A LOOK BACK...

GO W-L Football !!!!!

An Ivy Maiden

BELOW: Kimberly O'Brien sticks with senior tradition on Decades Day. During Spirit Week, the majority of the seniors showed up wearing homemade togas.

Everyone Has A Favorite Bedtime Pal!

CENTER: It's everyone's favorite day of the year. PAJAMA DAY!!! Karla Rodríguez, Marissa Cornejo and Lauren Cochard went all out on Pajama Day and by coordinating their stuffed animals with their sleepwear.

Working With Good Friends

BOTTOM RIGHT: Brad Jones and Lindsey Smith take a brief moment to have those smiles captured. Brad and Lindsey were two of many seniors that worked hard to produce those winning hall decorations.

... ON SENIOR YEAR

A General Through-And-Through
TOP LEFT: Although "Mr. David Brodkey" attended Northern Virginia Community College, he still managed to show W-L spirit for Hat, Tie and Button Day.

Members of the "General" Family
TOP RIGHT: Dina Guzman, Ana Patricia Alcantara, Nicolas Trujillo and Milady Rodriguez are proud members of the W-L Senior Class. Close relationships among friends meant a lot to the student body.

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION !!!!
BELOW: Jennie Scannell "hams-it-up" in front of the senior class hall decoration, where she spent many hours working.

Having Too Much Fun!
ABOVE: Kharine Charles, Mike Robinson, Charlene Miller, Jandira Lamas and Carlos Salinas. The five of them reunited after their high school years.

Just Can't Hide That W-L Pride!!!

Class of 2001 Siblings

... you're not too heavy, you're my brother
[you're my sister] ...

- The Original Father Flannagan's Boys' Home

Washington-Lee's graduating class leave behind younger siblings which, no doubt, they will miss. However, this parting is inevitable and cannot be avoided. These pages are dedicated to the graduating seniors, their siblings, and families. Good luck to the departing siblings. Stay in touch with your brother or sister!

JUNIORS!

Next in line . . . ready to accept the "Senior" challenge!
Prepared to rise to the occasion . . . transforming into the Class of 2002. Our vision is to become . . .

SENIORS!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Jammin' Juniors

Junior Jobs

Juniors experience reality by working in today's world.

Mail Boxes Etc.

TOP LEFT: Mail Boxes Etc. worker David Sauter has been an employee for almost two years. "It has been an enjoyable and well spent two years working there [Mail Boxes Etc.] The managers are enthusiastic and knowledgeable."

Reiter & Hill, MD

TOP RIGHT: Lauren Reiter, works as secretary and file assistant in her father's medical office. "This gives me both quality time with my dad and a chance to interact with other people, while we are both getting things done."

Ski Chalet

MIDDLE LEFT: New Ski Chalet employee, Devan Colley loves her first job. "It's a great job because I love being able to get discounts on all my skiing necessities. I can't wait to use all of my new stuff."

Always There Pet Care

MIDDLE RIGHT: Corey Leutbecker has been an employee at Always There Pet Care for approximately one year. Corey works with best friend, Christine Tillman. "It's a fun environment working with other young people and we love playing with the animals."

Britches

ABOVE: Friends Kristen Jackson and Malaika Schiller love folding stylish clothes at Britches. These ladies have both worked there for a number of months and thoroughly enjoyed their after school job.

Best Buy

ABOVE: Best Buy co-workers Sarah Montegue and Ramiro Arevalo love their first job. They had fun riding into work together and earning store discounts.

Junior Spirit!

Homecoming 2000 - The Class of 2002

We Bleed Blue & Gray!

Creating A Homecoming Theme

ABOVE: Katarina Mijich hangs leaves from the ceiling for the Hall Decoration Contest. The juniors received second place for their autumn hallway theme.

Homecoming Dance 2000

Give Me A G!

Rallying Together During The Hallway Decorations

Creating A Masterpiece!

OW: Sarah Sanjakdar concentrates on every minor detail of the apple. She successfully completed the painting of 15 multi-colored apples. Keep up the good work Sarah!

Homecoming Activities Shared With Close Friends

Focusing On Academics

Painting The Junior Hallway

Homecoming Splendour

ABOVE: Miriam Bowring and Lydia Malley frolic through the crepe paper. These ladies were quite relaxed around the countless streams of hanging crepe paper.

Junior Highlights

"The cool thing about being a Junior is knowing that I am old enough to have a driver's license and a part-time job. I also like the fact that I am not an immature underclassman and I have one year to go before I graduate."

George Lang

"Being a Junior means more privileges, as well as more hard work. I enjoy every new challenge I encounter. Therefore, I will enjoy being a senior next year."

Joanna Blackwell

"Being a Junior allows more freedom and responsibility. I like having friends across all grades. It's great being a Junior now knowing that our senior year is fast approaching."

Thomasina Holland

"It's cool being a Junior. I like having the respect of the underclassmen. Next year, I think it's going to be even better when we are Seniors. It'll be our school."

Jonathon Castillo

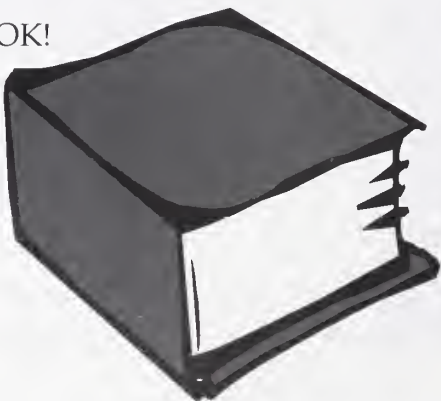

Super Sophomores

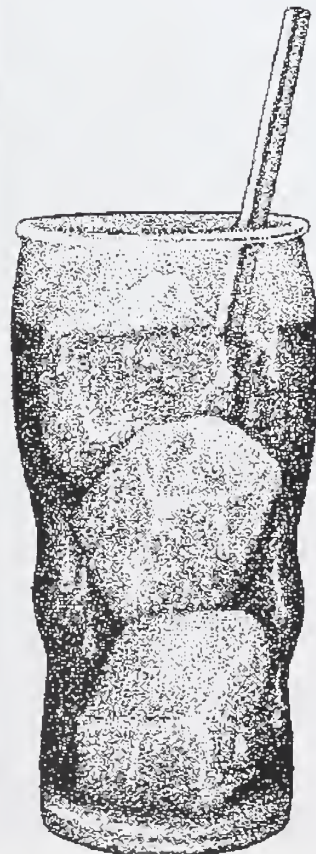

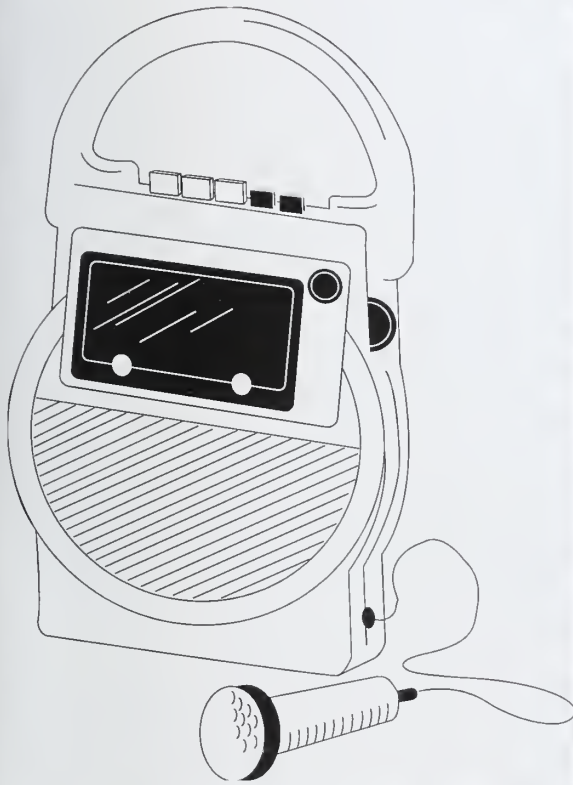

Once upon a time, there were some students. They called themselves SUPER SOPHOMORES. Most would have said they were OK. Many soon learned that they are the largest close knit group of friends in the student body. They were also the most culturally diverse class at W-L.

If you want to know who's behind organizing the best school dance of the year, which attracted students from all over Arlington County, the Sophomores were the bunch that made their mark. They are active in school clubs and athletic activities. Watch out and clear the roads, they are starting to drive! Check them out, they really are OK!

Super Sophomores

Super Sophomores like to have fun - too much fun! Lots and lots of fun! If you want to be around students that enjoy food and great music, SUPER SOHPOMORES are the people to hang out with.

"Working With It" - Sophomore Style

Jewell Smith and Portia Moore know what it takes to keep those sophomore smiles working. They say, "... it's simple, we see the Sophomore Class of 2003 representing the Generals mathematically - 2 times to da 4th power!"

Super Sophomores

Hanging Out With A Chicken
FAR RIGHT: Sophomore Richard Gabster and Freshman Kyle Curd make friends with a rubber chicken during Mrs. Verville's math class. It was never a challenge to find unordinary objects around W-L.

Balloons For Sale
ABOVE: Mary Burford stops for a second to smile for the camera. Mary helped at the Holiday Bazaar by passing out balloons.

Class Of 2003 Rocks!

Waiting In A Row

Cinderella For A Night

Shopping Around

Super Sophomores

All Sorts Of Hats

ABOVE: Jessica Lemmer, Lindsey Kaenel, and Ashton Lemmer wear their hats during lunch. Hat Day was very unique to every other day because normally students are not allowed to wear hats during school hours.

Shall I Escort You To Class?
RIGHT: Martin Ocegueda escorts Kelly Johnson in her boxers and tweety slippers to class. Pajama Day provided a variety of sleepwear, which the sophomore class enjoyed seeing.

SOPHOMORE HIGHLIGHTS

Nap Time

ABOVE: Lilly Khan and Elizabeth Showalter take a nap during lunch to regain energy for their next class. WHAT AN EXHAUSTING DAY!

Comfortable?

LEFT: Kiria Kanois likes being comfortable while she works.

Ending The Day With A Smile

RIGHT: Loan Chin had a great day at W-L. Her smile shows that being a sophomore is really OK!

Study Time

LEFT: Michael Manning, Devin Lilly, and David Getz take time to catch up on their homework. Sophomores began their second year at W-L buckling down on their coursework.

Time For Friends

BELOW: Andrea Molina, Lauren Williams and Laiza Daza get together with their friends to laugh, eat everything in sight, talk, sleep, and simply enjoy the best part of school - LUNCH!

Studying Government

A Great Personality

LEFT: Erika Bouknight is known for her witty personality and great sense of humor. Her friendly approach to meeting students has made her well known with her classmates.

Hands On Technology

RIGHT: As always, students find ways to entertain themselves. Alex Wooten demonstrates a graphing technique to another student. Thank goodness for those graphing calculators!

Lunchtime Madness

Meeting My Friend For Lunch

RIGHT: Vannesa Santander and Laisa Daza spend time together during lunch to discuss morning classes and afterschool activities. With so much work to complete during the school day, there was barely enough time during the day to make plans with friends.

Developing Speaking Skills

Freshmen - The Class of 2004

Freshmen! A great time to be in high school. New expectations! Starting something new is an experience that can intimidate the best of us. As a Freshman, being the latest addition to a large high school can stir up anxieties as well as excitement. W-L's freshmen were excited about the new adventure. This opportunity opened the way for inclusion and acceptance. It was a the time for uptapped talents to bud and blossom. These times produced serious community service and youth out-reach workers. The best part of being a W-L freshmen was knowing that you have a chance to invision the future and create who you wanted to be in your own style and at your own time.

Young & Strong

Finally, middle school is over and it was time for new challenges, better days, and respect from teachers for being a bona fide young adult. When Juron Williams arrived at W-L last year, he quickly made it clear that the Freshmen had brute strength. Many Freshmen looked up to Juron, now a Sophomore, and were quickly recognized as athletes and aspiring scholars.

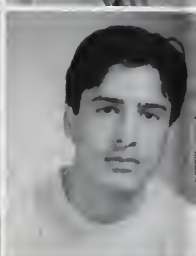

This year, Washington-Lee High School's youngest Generals continued the tradition of being proud, young and strong. This class was ambitious. Not bad for your first year!

Beaming With Questions

When the Freshmen arrived, they had many tasks ahead of them - finding their lockers, locating room numbers on their schedules, ensuring teachers did not treat them like middle-school students when turning in assignments late or incomplete, or deciding whether to bother senior when you needed to ask an important question.

These situations seemed overwhelming. Hey, guess what, you made it over that hurdle! Although you thought of giving up on asking anyone a questions. You prevailed! You soon learned, "Even Einsten asked questions!"

The Life of a Freshman

Freshmen soon learned that their was survival among the ranks. Older students never looked so big. Many asked, "How do I find myself in this strange new world?" Freshmen learned that finding the time to discuss common concerns among their own was extremely important.

Whether the concerns were how to use the computerized lunch card, how to exit the building safely during fire alarms, how to maximize the time left between classes, how to joining a club, or whether which food being served in the cafeteria was the best thing to eat. Welcome aboard, Freshmen!

JROTC Cadets Relax After Inspection

HT: Upstairs, the cadets have a few moments to relax and discuss the morning inspection.

Washington-Lee Welcomes Foreign Exchange Students

Washington-Lee High School's Foreign Exchange Program has opened doors to over 30 countries. Students and their parents actively participate in hosting, chaperoning, transporting, educating, mentoring, and volunteering of time and other resources to students from all over the world.

The program has enriched the fabric of the W-L's student body and community. Thanks to our students and teachers, we were able to host students from Asia, Europe, Central, and South America. Next year, several W-L students will be traveling abroad in a partnership of learning and exploration.

Since foreign exchange opportunities between high schools can be difficult to arrange, teachers, students, and parents go to great lengths planning and organizing the trips. Knowing that W-L believes in the success of their students and the building of future leaders, the collaboration of such a program is paramount.

In the fall, W-L welcomed several El Salvadorian students and two hosts just in time for the 76th homecoming.

The students visited from a private school in San Salvador. W-L's diverse Spanish speaking student body was a tremendous asset. The guests were right at home learning and socializing with public school students.

While visiting, the El Salvadorian students traveled to scenic and historic Washington, DC. Mr. Joel Rockwood, W-L Foreign Exchange Program Representative and Mr. Robert Garcia, W-L Latin Club Sponsor, accompanied the students and their hosts during their tours and visits around the Northern Virginia Metropolitan Area. Mr. Rockwood and Mr. Garcia's years of experience working with students from various countries enabled the visitors and our school to gain an invaluable educational experience.

In addition to the El Salvadorian students, we were fortunate to have two Japanese students and a group of French students visit W-L. The French students were hosted by W-L families and Madame Donna Beaston, a French Teacher.

Japanese students, Kanako Hayashi and Akira Saito, join our student body for the entire year. Akira spent time learning the American language and culture, while Kanako perfected her ballet. Kanako and Akira both were active W-L students.

Arriving In the United States

Time To Return Home

ABOVE: It's time to go home! Stephanie Kern, Tere Garcia, Camila Vilanova, and Coralla Dominguez leave W-L with huge smiles. They enjoyed their short (but rewarding) stay. Their educational experience and new friends will last a lifetime.

Getting Into The Homecoming Spirit

LEFT: Kanako Hayashi arrived in the U.S. September 2000 from Japan. Kanako is a participant of the World Heritage High School Exchange Program. Arlington residents sponsored Kanako. Per Kanako, "I'm thankful for my American host family and the opportunity to learn American culture. My favorite activity is ballet. I am a member of W-L's Dance Team."

BELOW: Akira Saito arrived in the U.S. in the 2000 summer. Akira's journey began with a flight from Japan to New York. From New York, Akira took a bus to Washington, D.C. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morris, Arlington residents, sponsored Akira's foreign exchange trip to the U.S. Akira will be returning to Japan during the summer of 2001. Per Akira, "I'm going to miss the Washington-Lee students. Thank you for allowing me to be a student at W-L."

Washington-Lee High School welcomes Mrs. Spraggins.

Our “General” has arrived!

Washington-Lee High School is an academic institution proud in tradition, strong with commitment, eager to serve the community, supported by diverse families, and willing to grow. The W-L staff and student body were thrilled when the announcement was made that Mrs. Spraggins would be our permanent principal. Her leadership and commitment to W-L is tremendous. Our “General” has arrived! And, we are marching victorious to conquer new horizons, build new frontiers, promote a committed learning environment, and partake in the spirit - “We Bleed Blue & Gray.”

Principal's Message

Dear Students,

What an honor it has been for me to be named principal of Washington-Lee High School! Washington-Lee has such a tradition of academic excellence, internationalism and high performance in athletics and other activities that I welcome the opportunity to exercise my skills as instructional leader here.

To the seniors, I extend my congratulations and best wishes for a bright and successful future. You carry with you a part of the heritage of Washington-Lee. It will assist you in meeting the challenges that you will face in being the best you can be.

To all students, I invite you to take full advantage of the opportunities that exist for you here at Washington-Lee. Join with the staff and me in making your time at Washington-Lee an extra special one.

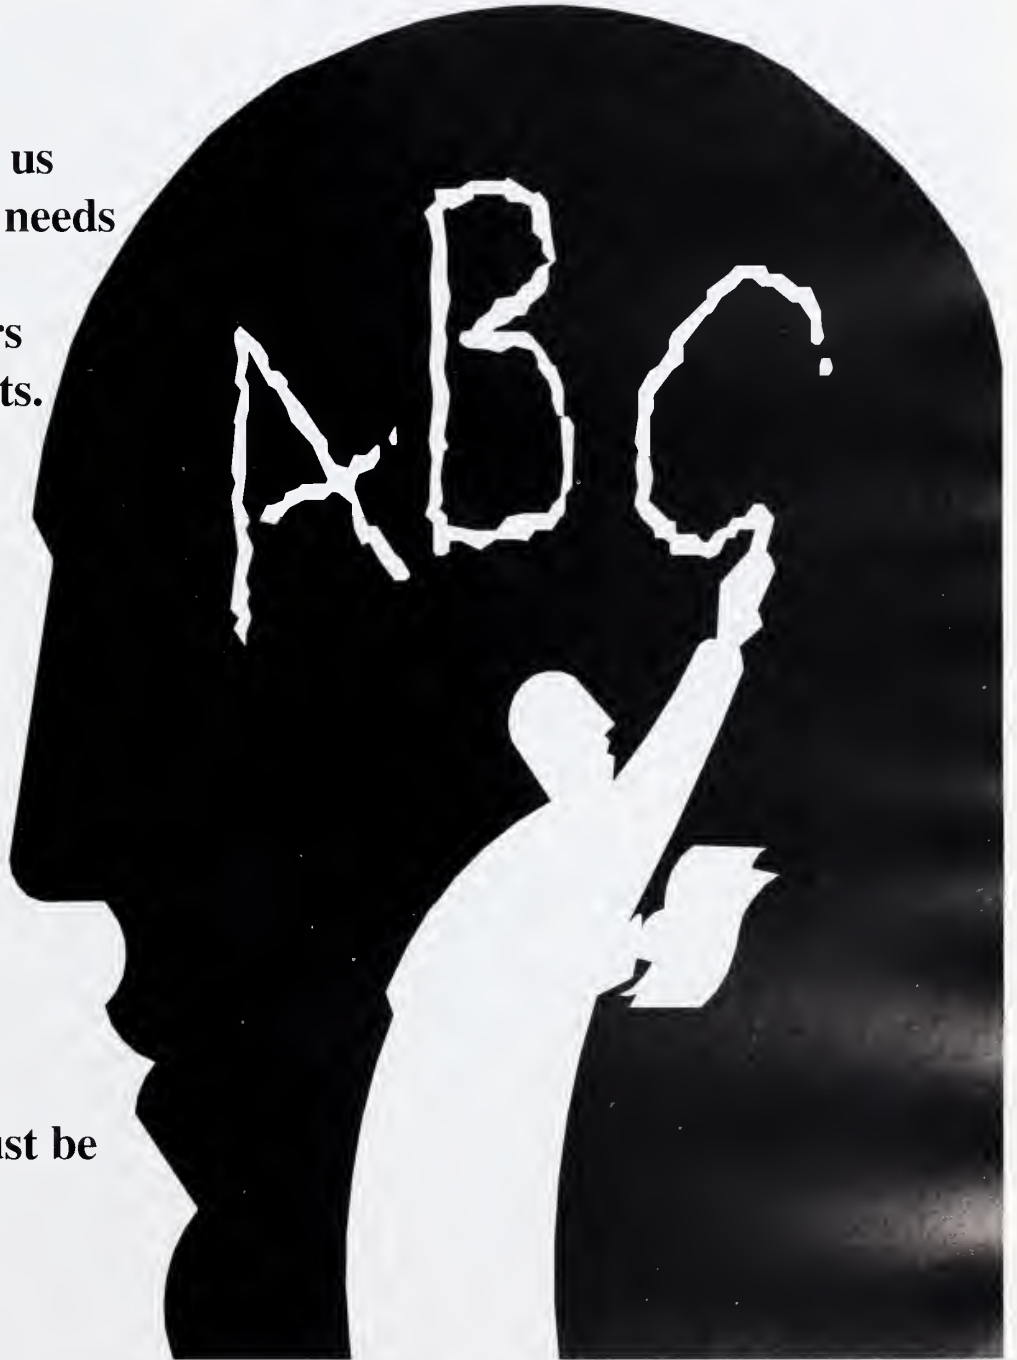

I wish each of you continued success.

Sincerely,
Marion D. Spraggins

The Faculty

... , as we begin each day, give us
the wisdom to see the special needs within each student.
Let us teach with love, as others have taught their own students.
Give us the words, to soothe a wounded spirit, and to excite the wonder within each precious pupil.
Help us to show love and support, to those around us, whether with a smile, or a word of understanding.
Put a smile on our face, and words in our mouths that all may see the love within us.
If there be any truer measure than by what love does, it must be by what love gives.

Our Assistant Principals

Washington-Lee's assistant principals juggle numerous duties while addressing teacher and student requests. Mr. Jamelske is W-L's latest addition to the assistant principal staff. We appreciate their hard work and commitment.

Mr. Paul Jamelske
Assistant Principal for Attendance

*Students! Students!
Where are the students!
At the door, waiting to be seen.
Student questions! Student questions!
How many do we answer?
One, two, three . . . to many! Oh, we do care!
Answers! Answers!
We have them on reserve.
Plenty to pass around. Plenty to serve.
Tomorrow! Tomorrow!
We will be here tomorrow!
So many students - too few days.
We'll see you in a minute.
Listening! Listening!
We care about our students.
We know your concerns. We're happy to see you.
Ending! Ending!
The year has come to a close.
Do we have another appointment?
Well, it's time to go home!
See ya! See ya!
See you next year.
Thank you! Thank you!
Thank you students for being here.
You care about our students.
We are your principals - we'll be here for you next year.*

Investing In Our Students' Future

Dear Students,

Unbeknownst to most of you, did you know that your enthusiasm to learn made our job even more rewarding?

Do you remember the smile on our faces when we saw in your eyes that the wheels were turning? Embedded in our hearts we captured your learning experiences.

We will always treasure your willingness to learn and hope you will continue to keep the light for learning alive.

We're on a mission to conquer young minds. To impart knowledge was a noble thing. Our gift of teaching will last a lifetime. We believe in this mission. It impowers us to strive for the best that's within us and the best inside our students.

SPORTS

W-L's Varsity Football Team's competitors challenged the Generals throughout their entire sports season. We were behind them all the way, regardless of the outcome. However, the team managed to give us one winning game when they beat South Lakes High School 42 to 43 in triple overtime. The Girls Field Hockey Team had a lot of fun. Although their season victories were few, their most intense games were against Yorktown High School - battling against the Patriots to double over time. The Girls' Cross-Country Team made it all the way to districts, competing against Falls Church, Edison, Yorktown, Wakefield, Stuart, and Mount Vernon. W-L's Girls Tennis team ended their season upsetting almost every team on their roster. Regardless of the victories, W-L did well. The Generals delivered a full season of quality sports. Way to go W-L!

POWER UP!

GATORADE BREAK!

RIGHT: Elizabeth Watson, Sophomore, gives Carlos Salinas, Senior, a cup of Gatorade, while he is taking a break from the tiring track meet. Next year, W-L will have a new track. The 2001-2002 home track meets will host schools from several Virginia districts.

LOOKING TO SCORE

Senior football player, Warren Perkins, catches a touchdown pass during the Jeb Stuart football game. Warren's touchdown pass enabled the Generals to take the lead against the Jeb Stuart Raiders.

Making Another Touch Down
RIGHT: Quarterback Senior Chris Davis runs for a touchdown on a QB bounce. Chris was an asset to the team his 2000-2001 senior year.

Varsity Cheerleading

A New Look & A New Attitude

W-L Varsity Cheerleaders had a great 2000-2001 season. Varsity Coach Tamara Willis, Junior Varsity Coach Kathy Williams, and Freshmen Coach Dione Ray worked exceptionally hard coaching three squads of cheerleaders. Coach Williams and Willis collectively assisted the varsity squad by placing third in districts. W-L's districts encompassed the northern region of Virginia.

Throughout the school year, the cheerleaders raised monies for new uniforms. Sophomore cheerleader, Portia Moore stated, "... we got new uniforms; which gave us a new look. I think the uniforms boosted our attitudes and improved our look. We had that extra incentive to go further."

A Rocky Start - A Powerful Ending

The JV Lady Generals had a rocky start to their basketball season. The season began with few wins. Along the way, they were motivated by Coach Tonya Bonham to improve their playing performance during the middle of the season. Prior to the girls' varsity tournament, Sophomores Jeanne Carvoll, Portia Moore, and Freshman Amy Beckwith moved up from the junior varsity to varsity team. Their membership to the varsity team enhanced the performance of the Varsity Lady Generals. As members of the JV team, Jeanne, Amy, and Portia contributed significant time and energy to the both teams in order to ensure a successful season.

The next generation of General's varsity basketball players are here and ready for some action. The junior varsity basketball team had a spectacular season finishing 18-0. This was no surprise to the Generals. The highlights of the season were beating arch rivals Wakefield Warriors and the Yorktown Patriots. Many of the players contributed the great season to hardwork, determination and teamwork. "We worked as a team. Teamwork was what made the difference," said Sophomore Aaron Malave.

Other JV team members contributed the winning season to their coaches. "We had a great undefeated season thanks to the players and Coach Bentley." He [Coach Bentley] is a great coach and prepared us well to compete at the varsity level," commented Sophomore Sean Somlar.

Generals Get A Head Start

The freshman basketball team is the gateway into the Generals' basketball program. Most Washington-Lee basketball players start out on the freshman basketball team. The following seasons, the same players go on to play in regional and travel teams. The freshman basketball team had a rocky season, finishing 3-15 overall. The boys worked hard this year and are now ready to start on the junior varsity team next season. The boys were led by Head Coach Horace Willis. They were determined to finish the season with great "General Pride." The boys' team practiced everyday during the winter season. The freshman team, led by captains Frankie Hezera and Terrell Springs, were very excited about the 2001 season. They look forward to a new Generals basketball team next year.

Time Checks For The Team

BELOW: Sophomore Becca O'Brien and Senior Monique Boley report to Coaches Findler and Coatz, to receive their race times. Both coaches were very good at working with the team to improve personal, as well as relay times.

Indoor Track

Getting Ready
LEFT: Senior Arlene Lee, a student attending H-B Woodlawn, was a huge asset to the W-L team. Arlene's endurance and speed greatly influenced W-L's wins.

One Of The Few
RIGHT: Junior Carlos Caihuara was one of the few young men on the Indoor Track Team. Washington-Lee was proud to be represented by him in the men's races.

The Anchor
FAR LEFT: Monique Boley runs a relay against a James Madison student. Monique was the "anchor" for the relay, in other words, she was the last runner. What an honor!

Long Strides
LEFT: At the district track meet, Freshman Elizabeth Dennis runs a long distance race. She was a dedicated runner. She made the trip from H-B to W-L every day for practice.

A Proud W-L Track & Field Runner
ABOVE: Coach O'Connor displays her pride for the Washington-Lee Track and Field Team by sporting the team's sweatshirt.

Catching Her Breath
ABOVE: Lydia Malley, Junior, bends over to catch her breath after finishing her part of the relay. Although she was out of breath, her humor and positive attitude remained.

Varsity Wrestling

The Washington-Lee Boys' 2000-2001 Wrestling Team finished their season on a high note. They competed in numerous wrestling tournaments and came out successful.

Head Coach James T. Mon and Assistant Coaches Mr. Darryl Garrison and Mr. Mark Blake worked hard with the team six days a week for approximately three hours a day.

Their dedication and hard work paid off in the end.

Securing The Opponent

First Time Wrestler

MIDDLE RIGHT: New varsity wrestler Bryan Rogers comes out on top at his first meet. The initial push was what got Bryan off to a great start.

High Ranked Wrestler

ABOVE: Sophomore Leonel Villatoro is the winner of his 130lb. weight class match. Leo was ranked in the district's top 5% for the 2001 season.

Regional Wrestler

BELOW: Second year returning varsity wrestler Robert Armstrong is ranked first in the district for his heavyweight class (275lbs). Robert finished the season ranking fourth in the region and his record was 30-4. "I feel that I just completed my year yet and I owe it all to the coaches who put in as much work as I did." - Robert Armstrong

First Year Competitor

ABOVE: 160lb. weight class wrestler, Charles Amazeen, Sophomore, ranks in the district level. Charles was a returning wrestler and first year varsity competitor.

Seasoned Wrestler

ABOVE: Senior captain Ian MacTavish wrestles against the 152lb. opposing member of the Falls Church High School Varsity Wrestling Squad. Ian has wrestled all four years at the varsity level.

Striving To Succeed

ABOVE: Heavyweight Roland Feracho goes head to head against his rival from Falls Church. Roland is a first year wrestler surprised the coaches with his talent. Way to go Roland!

Coaching In Style

BELOW: Coach Mon watches on as his number one wrestler completes another victory.

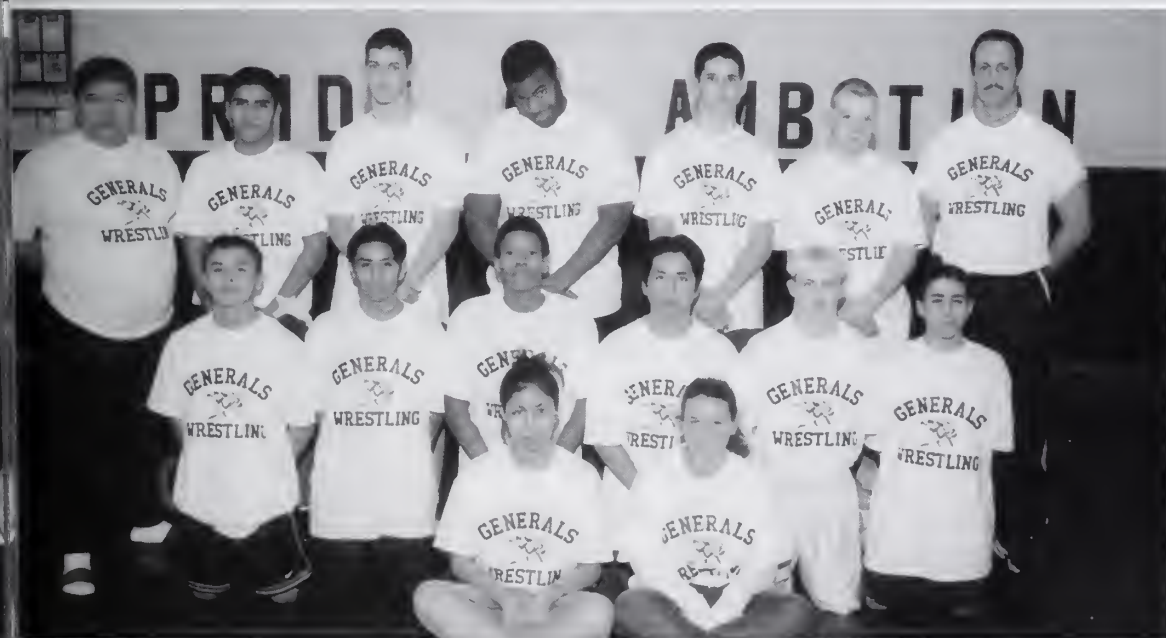

A Film In The Making

ABOVE: Sophomore lightweight (103) Cyrus Edjlali patiently videotapes his teammates' matches. Cyrus is a returning wrestler. This year he competed at the varsity level. Congrats to a good year, Cyrus!

Quenching His Thirst

Boys' Lacrosse

Generals were a hit in the Lacrosse program. The 2001 Boys' Lacrosse Team, with the help of coaches Joel Rockwood and Peter Vogel had an excellent season. Early in the season, they had a few problems. However, the team pulled together to create an awesome force. Team Captains, Devan Lilly, Tim Walters, Bruce Caviness and Jesse Shaw attributed the season to hard work, determination and a love of the game. The returning members looked forward to a challenging and fun season of lacrosse.

Boys' Varsity Baseball

Excellence has been a tradition with the Washington-Lee Varsity Boys' Baseball Team. This year was no exception. Several of the team players were underclassmen; which actually presented an advantage for the team since the younger players learned quickly from the seasoned players.

Warm-Up

BELOW: Coach Doug Grove explains the day's warm-up and workout routine before practice begins. Practice activities included running laps, throwing, fielding, and batting practice.

Fielding

ABOVE: Charles Sullivan fields a ball hit to third base during practice. Fielding was important for defense when backing up the pitcher.

Playing Pickle

ABOVE: Third baseman, Michael Berger, chases down base runner Alex Schaefer. The play, begun by Michael, involved the third baseman and the catcher throwing the ball back and forth and finally chasing the base runner down for an out.

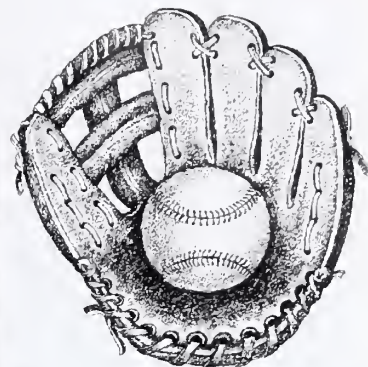

Pitching Practice

OW: Stephen Zebrack practices his pitching skills before a game. Stephen is one of the younger members of the varsity team. His talents will be quite useful in the 2002 season.

GIRLS PLAY HARD

Girls' Varsity Softball

Swinging hard and getting down to the basics was the theme for this team. The Washington-Lee Girls' Varsity Softball Team, with new Head Coach Deanna Purdy and Assistant Coach David Peters, had an interesting and fun season. This year's team included two seniors, Captains Desiree Christman and Gena Aycock. One of the most memorable games was beating the Raiders 21-0. The coaches and returning players look forward to next year's season.

Washington-Lee's Junior Varsity Boys' Soccer Team's season began with great anticipation. The team included freshmen, sophomores, and junior players with varying levels of soccer experience. Their combined speed and unique playing techniques created an awesome team. Due to the unpredictable spring weather, many of the team's scrimmages were canceled. The season picked up and the team played well with most of their home games at Gunston Middle School. Their schedule entailed competitive games against 12 Arlington, Fairfax and Prince William County schools.

Boys' Varsity Soccer

Washington-Lee Boys' Varsity Soccer Team may not have upset most of their opponents; however, they did end the season with victories over local area schools. Weekly practice sessions began at four o'clock. During the season, inclement weather caused many of the scrimmages to be canceled.

The weather did not deter the players from delivering outstanding performances during Tuesday and Thursday night games. Home games were played at Gunston Middle School while the team awaited the completion of our new field; designed to be located at the War Memorial Stadium. Special thanks go to Coaches Carrasquillo and Rivera for preparing the team for a great season.

Girl's Crew

N'Sync - Rowing Style!

BELOW: Early in their season, the Second Varsity Eight works on their rowing technique. Row techniques were significant aspects of crew when developing synchronization and balance. Rowers learned that the slightest jerk could throw off the keel (boat's balance). In addition, concentration on the lead rower was difficult for new rowers. Pictured below : Katarina Mijich, Veronica Andrews, Elizabeth Watson, Levita Robinson, Emeline Planche, Lauren Cruickshank, and Carol Sabatino.

Our changing faces ready to soar.

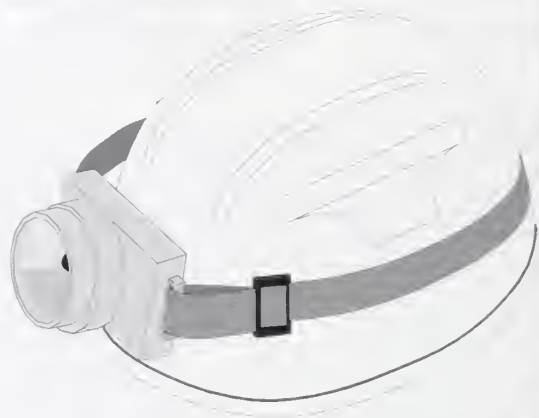

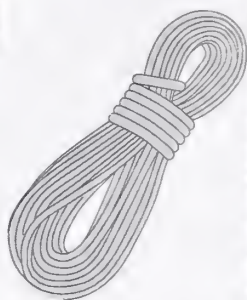

The location was 1300 North Quincy Street. The season for sports had come to a close. The Mighty Generals had tasted the world of competition. They understood that talent was only 1% of the battle. The other 99 came from self-motivation, determination, and self-sacrifice. The physical endurance exhibited was imperative. Their mental endurance pushed the boundaries of each player.

Most importantly, they understood that being a General meant teamwork. It meant sweating the "Blue & Gray." It was all about capturing the moment and changing from within in order to be ready to soar. They now know what the limits of the human race for athletes were pushed once again on 100 North Quincy Street.

Representing Young Africans & African Americans From Many Lands

ABOVE: Juniors Leilani Page and Wenyi Ghebrehmedhin look on while society's agenda is presented. Each year, W-L's African Awareness Society brought together African and African American students as a representative of various heritages from Africa. The society consciously informed other W-L students about the current and historical aspects surrounding "persons of color."

African Awareness Society Members

Focusing On The Message From A Guest Speaker

ABOVE: The members listen attentively to a guest speaker. During the year, AWS members invited many speakers to talk about African American and African issues in the United States and abroad. The talks were instrumental for W-L students pursuing college degrees, employment, and political positions. The members had a lot of fun asking questions and receiving candid feedback.

Giving You That Award Winning Smile

ABOVE: Vice President Charken Walker, a long standing member of the African Awareness Society. Charken will be missed immensely.

Blue & Gray Learning Outside The Walls of Washington-Lee

Fall Workshop Training

VE: Washington-Lee Blue & Gray Yearbook Staff enjoys a late morning break during the one day n's Connect-The-Dots Fall Workshop held at Fair Oaks Holiday Inn, Fairfax, Virginia. Attending local ng sessions gave students an opportunity to network and meet other yearbook staffs from the surrounding ies. This was an excellent time to learn new photography, sales, writing, and editing skills. The nters at the workshop provided top-notch, highly professional training sessions.

Working & Learning

IT: Mrs. Gault, Yearbook Advisor, observes Michele Leahy, Senior Editor and Gena Aycock, Assistant r Editor, as they apply what they learned from the Josten's workshop.

Blue & Gray Staffers Having Fun & Working Hard

Raising Funds

E: Sophomores Kelly Landers, Stephanie Byrne, and Shawntae Brown "suds it up" the W-L Yearbook Staff's fall car wash. Raising funds were important. Students learned e expenses associated with producing a yearbook was monumental. Funds raised during the year would be applied to the production of the yearbook, school-related yearbook expenses, e fees to send new and returning staffers to an intense four-day yearbook training camp over nmer.

Car Wash! Get Your Car Wash & A Hot Dog!!!

ABOVE: Juniors Lauren Reiter, and Junior Editor Anna Capetanakis, work hard to get those customers! Customers donated funds for a car wash while munching on grilled hotdogs. Fundraising activities, such as the carwash and hotdog sale, were just a small contribution to building the funds. Commerical and student ad sales were needed to help off-set the expenses. The students received many thanks for the clean cars and great grilled hotdogs!

Band and Color Guard

Drummers Ready & Alert!
BELOW: Drummers Eric Sorrell and Tony Larson await Mr. Robinson's cue to begin drumming. The percussionists set the beat for the marchers.

Two Great Drum Majors
RIGHT: W-L's two drum majors, Anne Rousselot and Mauricio Canales help keep the band on the beat. Anne and Mauricio were assigned many responsibilities while supporting the band director.

Challenged To Play
ABOVE: Andrew Kincaid, one of the tuba-players, marches along with everybody else. The tuba is the heaviest wind-instrument in a marching band, which makes it the most challenging instrument to play.

At Rest
CENTER: Washington-Lee's band members "at rest." They await a signal from the drum majors to begin playing and marching. This technique was important in gaining the "superior" they covet so much.

Multi-Talented Musicians
RIGHT: The trumpeters at rest also danced, marched, yelled, and played their instruments through numerous routines. These musicians were assigned to do many tasks at the same time. Their performances were excellent.

Practicing In Formation

LEFT: Amber Kurtz and Sara Montague were the co-directors of the colorguard. Their leadership helped recruit, train, and perfect the performances for the new members of the colorguard.

Hard Work & Great Respect

BELOW: Band Director Mr. Alex Robinson is well known in Northern Virginia for his excellent track record conducting and training marching and musical bands. Mr. Robinson's musical career in Arlington County spans 15 years. On April 22, 1999, The Washington Post recognized Mr. Robinson for his dedication to the art of teaching music at Washington-Lee High School.

Band and Color Guard

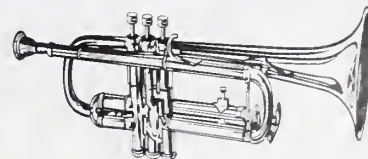

Drummers! Take It On Home!

The drum section is vital to the marching band. It sets the tempo for the rest of the band and gave the music a powerful and inspirational sound.

Practicing For A Great Performance

Direct Instruction
RIGHT: Ms. Theresa Severin, Choir Teacher, points out a difficult note to Peter Soto, Freshman. Peter worked with Ms. Severin in order to master a specific section of music. Students realized that choir practice took time and personal determination.

Singing Together
RIGHT: Freshman David Avelar, Jorge Flores, and Leslie Torrez look over a song. It was important to learn every note. Choir students learned to appreciate the beauty and harmony of many songs.

Self Taught
RIGHT: Getamesaye Seyoum, Freshman, teaches himself a new song. Getamesaye practiced and practiced until he got the song right. Getamesaye was one of Ms. Severin's most promising students.

Ms. Spraggins - You're On!

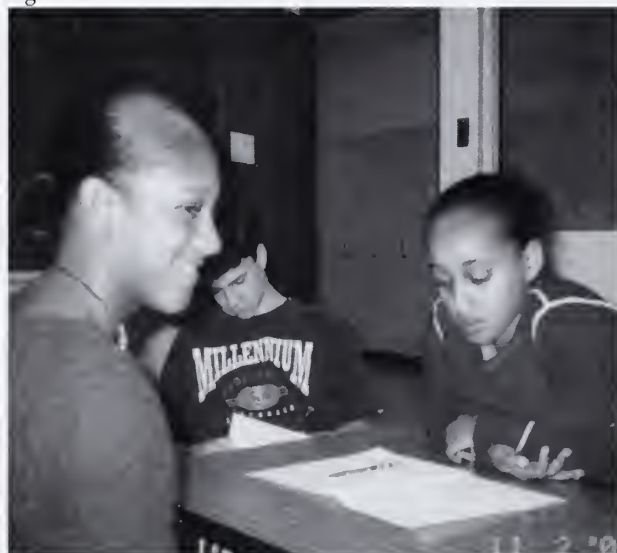

TOP LEFT: Cross Sabres Staff interviews Ms. Marion Spraggins, Washington- Lee High School Acting Principal. The staff asked Ms. Spraggins about student and faculty issues at W-L. The most important issues were parking and attendance. Afterwards, the staff received statements from Ms. Spraggins concerning her experiences as a principal and how she started her career in public education.

Journalists At Work

BOTTOM LEFT: George Lang, Sandra Carcamo, and Alejandra Mercado focused on Ms. Spraggins' interview. The staffers learned two important aspects of being a journalist - the art of taking detailed and accurate notes while listening to your subject. Questions presented to Ms. Spraggins were timely and important for the 2000-2001 student population. Staffers asked, "What is your stance on cell phones at school?" and "Would starting classes an hour later make a difference on student achievement?"

When Will It Be Done?

BOTTOM RIGHT: The newspaper staff discusses a hot topic. The topic from the list for discussion was W-L's football stadium. Ms. Spraggins ultimate response was to have the War Memorial Stadium ready in time for the 2001 graduation.

2nd Board:	Russell Evans
3rd Board:	Anton Tchistiakov
4th Board:	Mahmudal Hagner
5th Board:	Jaume Ramos
Reserve:	Andrew Muffley
Reserve:	Ivan Becerra

Each Tuesday W-L chess members gathered in Mr. Peters' room to learn about new strategies for competitive matches. Members played games using pieces provided by Mr. Ron Uveges.

Chess is an ultimate mind game that relies on pure concentration. The members learned patience, planning, and strategy; which can be used in life skills.

Diversity Peer Trainers

Washington-Lee is noted for its diversity. The Diversity Peer Training Program is a process for creating an environment of respect and tolerance. A group of 42 diversity peer trainers, under the guidance of Mrs. Marsha Dale, Diversity Training Coordinator, and Ms. Margie Scherzer, Arlington Social Worker, presented workshops to their fellow students. The workshops touched on why and how students identified themselves, found commonalities (as well as differences), and discussed prejudice, stereotyping and discrimination. Since it was students' peers who facilitated the activities, the message was powerful. Activities such as these encouraged students to take an activist role against bigotry of all kinds. The workshops were designed to have students depart with a level of awareness necessary to consider new questions and perspectives on dealing with people who are different from themselves.

English as a Second Language

Working On The Minutes
TOP RIGHT: Carlos Caihuara, Sophomore, and Ms. Osso, Sponsor, listen to the minutes from the last ESOL meeting. Ms. Osso has sponsored the club for many years and enjoyed spending extra time with her students outside of class.

Sharing Minutes With A Sister
ABOVE: Sisters Sarah and Sembal Iqbal (Freshman and Junior) share a copy of the previous week's minutes while listening attentively to the officers discuss the topics covered on paper. The reading of minutes were helpful to many ESOL students. This process enhanced their current English reading and speaking skills. During the year, the ESOL Club held numerous car washes, raising money for a multitude of school and community activities.

Generals for Christ

Generals for Christ is one of Washington-Lee's unique clubs. This club, unlike all other clubs, did not meet at school. Instead, they met off campus.

The objective of the club is unity and sharing. Each meeting was designed to lend moral and emotional support to all attendees. Encouragement and sharing of personal testimonies played a major role in the meetings. These activities created a bond among the members and generated close friendships.

Generals for Christ met weekly and performed various religious activities; such as, praying and reading passages from the Holy Bible. Although they practiced Christian beliefs, members of other religions were also welcomed to the meetings.

It's Academic

Preparing For a Televised Competition

Washington-Lee's three It's Academic team members - Juniors Robby Pratt, Stephen Macekura, and Whitney Sado learned how to listen and work together to prepare for their final answers. Mrs. Campana worked extremely hard preparing students for the annual competition. The most important aspect of this event is team work and concentration.

On The Set of It's Academic

On Saturday, November 11, 2000, Washington-Lee High School competed against Chantilly High School and Quince Orchard High School during It's Academic's 40th season. This year's sponsor was Giant Food, Landover, Maryland. Students participating in It's Academic compete once a year against other schools to gain funds for their high school. Although W-L did not leave as the champion, they competed well and represented the school victoriously. W-L students and staff traveled to Washington, DC for the taping of the December show.

The International Baccalaureate Program

Developing Leadership Skills

Members Jackie Casalla, Jenny Penado, Veronica Rivera, and Gabriela Velleira, pay attention to their president Alessandro Isanez while he covered important issues.

Washington-Lee Orchestra

Learning InUnison

BELOW: Together, the orchestra class plays a musical piece on Pajama Day. Orchestra students dedicated hours of practice time before, during, and after school in order to become proficient musicians.

Practice Makes Perfect
TOP RIGHT: Senior orchestra student, Marco Morals focuses on his section. Marco spent numerous hours during the year learning advanced compositions.

Instructing The Orchestra
BELOW: Mrs. Theresa Jenkins-Russ, Orchestra Conductor, instructs her musicians on a difficult piece of music. Mrs. Jenkins-Russ worked with students in Arlington County's middle and high schools.

Full Concentration
RIGHT: Sophomore orchestra student Carolyn Forte learns to listen intently while playing. This skill was developed over years of practice.

Putting All You Got Into It!

ABOVE: Junior orchestra student Eric Schlichting is having way too much fun. Hey, isn't he entitled to it? Orchestra students developed their own style. Each musician became "in-tune" with their instrument.

They've Got The Whole World In Their Hands
TOP LEFT: William Drinkwater and Tim Lockhart are avid members of the Social Studies Honor Society. William and Tim, along with other members took part in numerous community activities.

An Honorable Smile
BELOW: Senior Katy Maher stops from her busy meeting to smile. Katy participated in many of the Social Studies Honor Society activities. Katy said, "I think social studies is important in every person's life. Without social studies, a person has no history. Without history, a person has no background."

Social Studies Honor Society

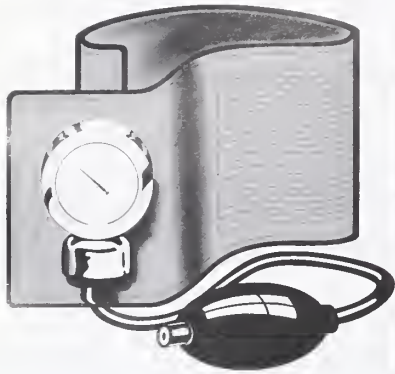

Social Studies Honor Society Club Members

Secretary Elizabeth Ehrenhalt, President Beth Skelton and Treasurer Jessica Key were responsible for the society's agendas, events, and the election of members in June.

Student Athletic Trainers

Learning To Be An Athletic Trainer
CENTER: Seniors Melissa Saunders and Mimi Rizzo get a few pointers from Wilson DeSousa who is training to be a Certified Athletic Trainer.

Veteran Trainers

ABOVE: Senior Mimi Rizzo has been a student athletic trainer for four years. Mimi even took time out of her summer to attend sports medicine camps.

We Need Water!

Tending To The Injured

RIGHT: Sophomore football player Aaron Malave's injury is one of the many Ms. Taylor tended to. Certified athletic trainers are highly educated and skilled professionals.

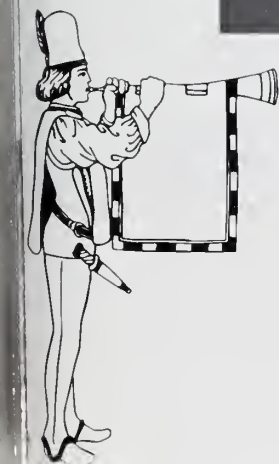

World War II History Club

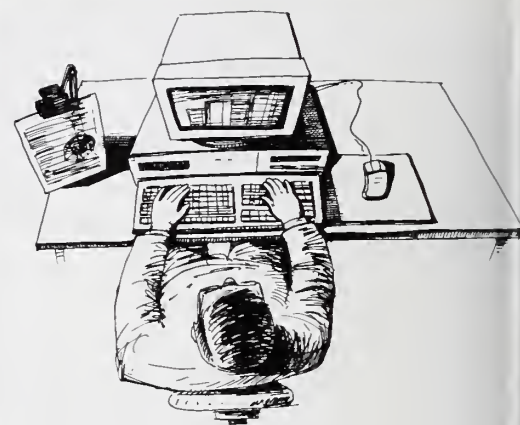

World War II History Club Prepared For Battle

Mr. Lester Albers, Sponsor, prepares his warriors for battle. Students of all ages and backgrounds became active participants in the art of war and battle. W-L students adorned themselves with battle gear during various outdoor activities. This club beckoned a unique type of student - A Warrior! Students learned about history, world wars, the mindset of war, the purpose of battle and the strategy of winning victoriously. Mr. Albers enjoyed the student participation and active involvement.

Computer Club

Washington-Lee Computer Club Members

LEFT: Members of the computer club (Left to Right) - Seniors Andrew Richter, Peng Chitradon, Danny Booth, Robert Bader, Nicholas "Nick" Mackie-Jones, and Mr. Ron Uveges, Sponsor.

MEMBERS NOT PRESENT: Seniors James Staurt and William Summers.

Preparing For A Technical Meeting

RIGHT: Mr. Ron Uveges gathers his notes for the afterschool meeting. The members of this club discussed highly technical aspects of programming and technology. In addition, Mr. Uveges provided a wealth of knowledge and insight on computers, careers, CISCO, and using ones logic to solve problems.

Hacking? Programming?

William "Will" Summers, Senior, works on an intense program. Will applies much of his knowledge gained in programming to troubleshoot and code. Mr. Uveges expected his senior students to take charge and perform.

Solving Hardware Problems

ABOVE: Danny Booth and Nick Mackie-Jones work with a computer that has malfunctioned. The club members helped Washington-Lee teachers, staff, and students by donating their time to fix computer problems.

Dear Fab 5, (Care's Mom's name for you)

Thanks for the memories, hearing your laughter, and glimpses of your friendship. As you continue your journey beyond W-L and look forward to college, I wish you the laughter of new friendships and the comfort of old ones.

Good Luck,
Mrs. "O'C"

A Mother's Song to Her Daughter

She was my heartfelt wish come true
God's perfect answer to my prayer.
A sugar and spice confection of a baby girl.
Fairytale's Snow White come to life.
Her dark hair, eyelashes, and hand drawn brow
framing lilted Irish eyes.
Her rose petal lower lip curled then as now.
Of course the nurse called her "Rosebud" as she lay her in my wanting arms.
And so she would be her father's darling and my precious Rosebud.
Don't call me darling she later asserted much in vain.
But, how could she ever stop being her father's darling,
and her mother's precious Rosebud girl?
A plump faerikin child, who, with the years turned sylph-like.
A whirlwind of talent, energy, and determination,
mixed with pervasive kindness and composure.
I marvel that I could be the vessel to bring her to this life, her caretaker for this little while.
Indeed she is my benefactress
for I have reaped joy far greater to hear her call me Mother.

ONE YEAR TO LIVE

*If I had but one year to live;
One year to help; one year to give;
One year to love; one year to bless;
One year of better things to stress;
One year to sing; one year to smile;
To brighten earth a little while;
I think that I would spend each day,
In just the very self-same way
That I do now. For from afar
The call may come to cross the bar
At any time, and I must be Prepared to meet eternity.
So if I have a year to live,
Or just a day in which to give
A pleasant smile, a helping hand,
A mind that tries to understand
A fellow-creature when in need,
'Tis one with me, I take no heed;
But try to live each day He sends
To serve my gracious Master's ends.*

CHANGING FROM THE INSIDE OUT

Theme: Changing From The Inside Out

Volume: 74

Completion Date: Beginning of April 2001

Cover: Designed by Assistant Editor, Gena Aycock staff member Kimberly O'Brien and Alexandra Obrand (former member) during the JOSTENS' 2000 YES Workshop, Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Virginia (July 2000); colors were basin street #517, craftline embossed cover with a cordova grain and silver foil #381

Staff: 12 students

Spreads: Designed and submitted using PageMaker 6.5 along with PageMaker templates; 100 percent of clip art was provided by Mrs. Gault's personal collection of Windows Art Explosion Images; all ideas and opinions expressed in the Blue & Gray are those solely of staff or W-L students quoted; opinions do not necessarily agree with the adviser or school administration; content is determined by the students and adviser through editorial board discussions and votes (if necessary)

Structure: 16 full color pages, 248 black and white pages

Sales: September 5 - October 13, 2000, price of book was $45.00; October 16 - December 18, 2000, price of a copy increased $5.00; sales per copy was $50.00; January 3 - June 18, 2001, price of copy increased $10.00; sales per copy was $55.00. W-L PTA and private sponsors purchased a total of 10 books to be given away to graduating seniors on reduced or free lunch plans. Students selected to receive a free copy were canvassed by adviser through a fair and discrete solicitation among W-L teachers and administrators during April and May 2001. Names of students selected to receive a free yearbook were provided publicized during May 2001 through interschool correspondence to W-L teachers and administrators. Private letters were mailed to the W-L PTA, private sponsors and student recipients. 600 books were ordered to be sold to the W-L High School population and community; book scheduled to be distributed early June 2001.

Statement of Philosophy: The Blue & Gray aimed to cover a variety of students, balancing the range of gender, ethnicity, and race represented within the school. We tried not to concentrate on any singular group but rather focus and capture the diversity of the school. The Blue & Gray does not print material that invades a person's right to privacy; causes a substantial disruption to the school day; is libelous or defamatory; is obscene by local community standards; or is copyrighted or plagiarized from another source. What was yearbook all about?

It was about working, working hard! Yearbook was about serving our students, teachers, parents, administrators, and the surrounding Arlington community. This was a year of transitions for Blue & Gray. Lots of changes and lots of new ideas and structure. We hung in there and got the job done. We knew it would be a challenge. We were serious about the business of the business - learning new operational styles, teamwork, writing, editing, producing, photography, sharing, forgiving and caring. We made it work. We were proud to be able to break new ground. This only means that there is no turning back! Blue & Gray are on a roll! We lived our theme. Have a great summer.

Many thanks to Mr. Kenneth Gault, W-L's Business, Marketing & Computer Science Department, Ms. Lucy Moorhead, Mrs. Marion Spraggins, Mr. Colin Brown, W-L librarians, Ms. Margaret Harris, Ms. Jinny Barrow, Ms. Sandy Munnell and her staff (they kept our computers running). A special thanks to the W-L custodians. Our custodians were forever keeping a watchful eye out for Blue & Gray staffers working late into the night.
